

CONTINUING EDUCATION PRACTICE UPDATE

Presented by UCVM Class of 2025

As part of VETM 506: Investigative Veterinary Medicine and Science Communication

Event Schedule – March 15, 2024 at the Clinical Skills Building, Spyhill Campus

1:30 – 1:50 PM Registration, Poster Viewing, Coffee/Snacks

1:50 – 2:00 PM Opening Remarks

2:00 – 3:30 PM Presentations and Discussion

3:30 – 4:00 PM Poster Viewing, Networking, Coffee/Snacks

4:00 – 5:10 PM Presentations and Discussion

5:10 – 5:20 PM Closing Remarks

Provisional Small Animal and Exotic Program (CSB 104)

1. Identifying Dermatological Presentations in Reptiles and Amphibians as a Small Animal General Practitioner
2. Using symmetric dimethylarginine (SDMA) as a renal biomarker to enhance diagnosis of early stage chronic kidney disease (CKD) and management of late stage CKD
3. Current information on FIP and remdesivir
4. Exploring Controversies in the Management of Feline Urethral Obstruction
5. Appropriate use of prophylactic antimicrobial therapy in canine dentistry patients with underlying cardiac disease.
6. Making Derm Great Again: Integrating a spectrum of care approach into the diagnostic and therapeutic treatment of canine atopic dermatitis
7. Can GPs use POCUS to diagnose left sided congestive heart failure?

Provisional Large Animal and Society Stream (CSB 101A)

1. Micronutrients in Western Canadian Beef Herds
2. Access to affordable veterinary care: Implications and solutions
3. The Present and Projected Value of Kinetic Data in Equine Gait Analysis
4. The Use of Artificial Intelligence in Small Animal General Practice
5. Using Thoracic Ultrasound to Diagnose Bovine Respiratory Disease
6. Is the Extended Release Injectable Formulation of Omeprazole a Reasonable Alternative to the Oral Product for the Treatment of Equine Gastric Ulcers?