Dr. Chantal McMillan

DVM, MVSc, ACVIM (Internal Medicine)

Chantal graduated from the WCVU with a doctorate in veterinary medicine in 2000. She worked in a small animal practice for one year following graduation before going back to the college to work as a clinical associate. She completed a small animal rotating internship at the University of Illinois in 2003. She completed a residency in Small Animal Internal Medicine and received board certification from the American College of Veterinary Internal Medicine in 2006.

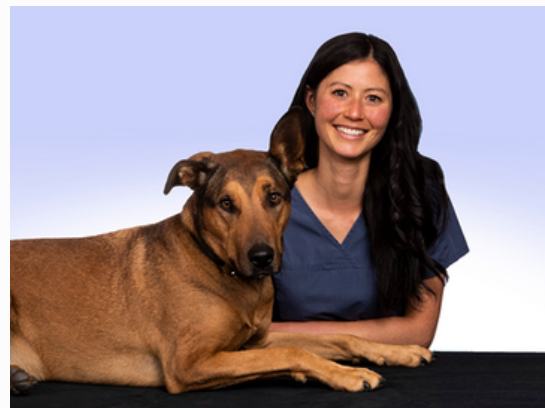

Since 2006 she has been in Calgary and before heading to the Faculty of Veterinary Medicine in 2008, she practiced full time at Western Veterinary Specialists. She is currently a senior clinical instructor where she teaches students in the lab, classroom, and clinics.

She is interested in a wide range of internal medicine topics but is most fond of endocrinology with a clinical and research interest in the area of Feline Diabetes Mellitus.

Dr. Maggie Williams

DVM, MS, DACVIM (SAIM)

Dr. Williams grew up in Winnipeg, Calgary, and British Columbia. She completed her DVM at the University of Calgary Faculty of Veterinary Medicine (UCVM) in 2017, at which time she discovered her passion for the field Internal Medicine. Following a rotating internship at the CARE Centre, she moved to Colorado where she attained a Master of Science and completed her residency in Internal Medicine at Colorado State University.

She returned to Calgary in 2021, and is currently working part-time at Western Veterinary Specialists and Emergency Center and part-time at UCVM as an Assistant Professor (Teaching).

Dr. Williams enjoys all aspects of Internal Medicine, with particular interests in hematologic, gastrointestinal, endocrine, and immune-mediated diseases. Additionally, she loves the opportunities this field provides to build relationships and work as a team with her clients and colleagues.

In her spare time, she can be found skiing, mountain biking, and hiking with her husband Ross and dog Moose.
